OBINexus Iwu: Where Tradition Meets Progress – My political party (DEAL WITH IT)

Dear Thurrock Housing – Offspring of the Buracrats,

Important Clarification Regarding My Housing Reform and Future Housing Developments

Whoever challenges me on this — put it in an email to support@obinexus.org and I'll deal with it personally. No distractions. No excuses.

I want to be absolutely clear: No flats or housing units will be built as part of my reform directly for my personal use. The purpose of my reform is to secure, develop, and oversee housing for the people who need it most — families, individuals, and those affected by the systemic failures of social care and housing.

My focus is on creating safe, stable homes for others, especially those who have been neglected or left vulnerable. As I move between Cambridge and other locations pursuing my education and career, I will oversee and ensure the proper development and management of these homes, whether I receive help or not.

This is about justice, community rebuilding, and systemic change, not personal gain. I am committed to making sure those who truly need housing get it — while I fight to secure my own independent stability.

Statement on Housing Reform and Systemic Failures in Staffing

We aim to build and reform safe, stable homes for those failed by the current system — no matter what obstacles are thrown our way.

It's clear that many of the people Thurrock Council hires to work in critical services like housing, health, and social care lack even basic qualifications like GCSEs. This is not only unacceptable but a direct violation of standards required to protect vulnerable residents.

Hiring unqualified staff undermines the quality of care and support, and perpetuates the cycle of failure and neglect.

Our reform will address these systemic problems head-on, ensuring that:

- Housing is built and managed professionally and safely
- Qualified, competent people oversee and deliver vital services
- Vulnerable people receive the support they deserve — not untrained personnel

This isn't just reform; it's a reckoning. The people deserve better, and we will make sure they get it.

This message serves as my final formal attempt to resolve an ongoing and escalating breach of the Housing Act 1996, as well as a safeguarding failure involving the housing officer known as Vijay at 15 Evesham Way.

Despite repeated attempts since early 2025, no action or contact has been made regarding my housing status or support. I am now 24 years old, previously under care, with legal and documented Independent Living status since 2018, and I am urgently preparing to relocate for higher education in Cambridge.

Immediate concerns:

- You have failed to fulfil your duty under Sections 184 and 188 of the Housing Act 1996.
- I have received no response to previous contact.
- This lack of action now puts me at serious risk of housing instability and mental health harm.
- I have supplied multiple contact details and addresses, including verified SAR requests and previous legal housing documentation.

What I need, without delay:

1. Immediate written response and acknowledgement within 48 hours
2. Housing assessment review and urgent reissue of any Independent Living Certificate or housing support plan
3. Confirmation of any internal safeguarding referral triggered by this case

If this is not resolved by the close of business in 2 working days, I will escalate via:

- A formal Section 202 Review
- A Legal Aid housing solicitor
- Ombudsman complaint
- Formal action through the High Court and media/public disclosure

You are lawfully obligated to respond. This is not just a bureaucratic issue—it is about my safety, right to independent housing, and the failure of duty by your team.

Sincerely,

Nnamdi Michael Okpala

Dear Thurrock Council Housing Strategy Team,

Bankrupt Thurrock Council asks for £636m bailout and tax hike

| Thurrock Council issued a section 114 notice in December effectively declaring bankruptcy.

By Simon Dedman
BBC Essex political reporter

A council that is effectively bankrupt is in talks with government to borrow up to £636m to help balance its books.

Thurrock Council in Essex has a £1.5bn debt following a series of high-risk investments.

The Conservative-run unitary local authority is also due to find out whether Westminster will allow it to increase council tax by more than 5%.

The Labour opposition leader said the government loan would only serve as a "sticking plaster".

| Conservative cabinet member for finance Graham Snell said the council would like to increase its share of tax from residents

Thurrock has asked for an initial £182.5m from the Treasury to prop up its budget for 2023-24.

The loaned funds would end up accounting for 57% of its spending.

The council however hoped to recoup at least £475m from the solar farms it started purchasing in 2018.

| An initial government loan of £182.5m would account for 57% of budget spending next year in Thurrock, including for bin collections, pictured in Tilbury

Last year, the Conservative government's Chancellor of the Exchequer, Jeremy Hunt, said councils could only increase their share of tax on residents by 4.99%, but an exception was expected to be made for Thurrock.

The council's cabinet member for finance, Graham Snell, said: "There's no point beating around the bush with that; we would be prepared to go above the 5% should the government allow us to do that."

Thurrock has the largest funding deficit of any local authority in England.

| About 450 people attended the Themsidae Theatre in Grays in December to watch Russell Brand, who grew up locally, campaigning over the venue's future.

The £636m bailout figure being discussed with government was revealed at an overview and scrutiny committee meeting at Thurrock on Thursday.

Labour opposition leader John Kent said: "This is only forestalling the day when you actually have to do something decisive to solve this problem."

"These sticking plasters just won't do."

Mr Kent said he was worried the council would sell its assets, such as scout halls and community halls, and he asked that they be transferred to community ownership.

A decision is yet to be made over the ownership of the Themsidae complex in Grays, which includes a 300-seat theatre, museum, community space and library.

I respectfully ask that the Trussell Trust:

To whom it may concern,

I fear my dream to go to Oxford and earn a Master's in Computer Science is slipping away because of how much I know and what I've endured. I fear being forgotten and trapped in supported living forever.

My future has been tainted by those who abuse their power. I worry the next generation of Gen Z, naturally skilled with technology, will inherit the same abuse I faced.

This is not a dispute under oversight — it's a clear human rights violation and failure of duty to provide care and support.

I am environmental and heterodox; I need change. The deadline for my legal proceedings is 8 April 2025. I remember everything. I am a fighter. I fear no one.

Who dares wins.
